Care Planning and the MDS 3.0 was developed as an educational program and reference for long-term care professionals. To the best of our knowledge, it reflects current federal regulations and practices. However, it cannot be considered absolute and universal. The information in this manual must be considered in light of the individual organization and state regulations.

The authors and publisher disclaim responsibility for any adverse effect resulting directly or indirectly from the use of this manual, from any undetected errors, and from the user’s misunderstanding of the text. The authors and publisher put forth every effort to ensure that the content, including any policies, recommendations, and sample documents used in this text, were in agreement with current federal regulations, recommendations, and practices at the time of publication.

The information provided in this course is subject to revision based on future updates and clarifications by CMS.

IMPORTANT NOTICE
Copyright © 2010, American Association of Nurse Assessment Coordination. All Rights Reserved.

No part of this publication, excluding any government source documents, may be reproduced or transmitted in any form or by any means (electronic or mechanical, by photocopying or otherwise), without permission in writing from AANAC. For information contact AANAC, 400 S. Colorado Blvd., Suite 600, Denver, CO 80246. Phone: (800) 768-1880. Source documents printed in this manual are government documents that are not copyrighted and are available in the public domain.

Table of Contents

About the Authors and Expert Reviewers ........................................... v
AACAN and the Education/Certification Programs. ............................... vii
Welcome .................................................................................. 1
Course Objectives ........................................................................ 2
Pretest ....................................................................................... 3
Foreword: Whose Goals Are They, Anyway? .................................... 6
Introduction .............................................................................. 8
Development of a Care Plan ............................................................ 10
  The Role of Assessment .............................................................. 10
  What Are the CAAs? ................................................................. 11
  What Are the CATs? ................................................................. 12
  Problem Identification Using the RAI ......................................... 14
  The Holistic View .................................................................. 16
  An Interdisciplinary Approach ............................................... 17
  Resident and Family Participation ............................................. 19
  The Right to Refuse Care ......................................................... 20
  Quiz 2 ................................................................................. 23
Critical Thinking ........................................................................ 24
  The Bridge from Assessment to Care Planning .......................... 24
  Quiz 3 ................................................................................. 28
Components of a Care Plan ............................................................ 29
  The RAI and Care Planning ...................................................... 29
  The Problem Statement .......................................................... 36
  Quiz 4 ................................................................................. 39
  The Goal ............................................................................. 40
  Quiz 5 ................................................................................. 42
  Interventions ....................................................................... 43
  Quiz 6 ................................................................................. 46
  Communication of Care-Planning Decisions .............................. 47
  Quiz 7 ................................................................................. 52
  Time Frames ........................................................................ 53
  Comprehensive Assessments .................................................. 53
  Interim Care Plan .................................................................. 53
  Significant Change in Status .................................................. 57
  Quiz 8 ................................................................................. 60
  Culture Change and Care Planning ........................................... 67
  Sample “I Format” ................................................................. 68
  Sample Narrative Format ....................................................... 69
  Resistance to Change ............................................................. 72
  Closing Thoughts ................................................................. 72
About the Authors

Rena R. Shephard, MHA, RN, RAC-MT, C-NE

Rena is the president of RRS Healthcare Consulting Services, providing LTC consulting and training services to facilities, corporations, and attorneys nationwide. She is the executive editor and the founding chair of AANAC and serves on the Master Teacher Editorial Advisory Board. Just since 2007, she has taught 17 of AANAC’s Resident Assessment Coordinator–Certified (RAC-CT®) workshops, presented at six AANAC national conferences, and authored or coauthored 26 of AANAC’s educational courses on MDS coding and nursing leadership. Nationally, Rena is a highly recognized expert in the RAI process and serves as a consultant to several of the CMS MDS-related projects, including MDS 3.0 development, and to California’s Quality Improvement Organization. She served as a DON in skilled nursing facilities for 14 years and has expertise in all aspects of long-term care.

Betty MacLaughlin Frandsen, RN, NHA, MHA, C-NE

Betty has over 30 years of experience in long-term care, currently as administrator for Bridgewater Center for Rehabilitation and Nursing in Binghamton, NY. Prior to returning to the long-term care setting, she was vice president of education and regulatory affairs for AANAC. Betty has served as an expert reviewer for Accurately Assessing Pain and the MDS 3.0, is an author of many of AANAC’s nursing leadership courses (C-NE), and is a frequent author for many long-term care publications. She held the position of director of nursing for 14 years, and is a licensed nursing home administrator in Pennsylvania and New York. She served as a culture change consultant to nursing homes in New York, Massachusetts, and Pennsylvania while working for the Institute for Caregiver Education, and was their grant writer and primary author/editor for www.skills4care.org, an online classroom for nursing home administrators. Betty is past president of NADONA/LTC, was a founding member of the Pennsylvania Culture Change Coalition, and served on its board of directors.